

Let's Climb Together Newsletter

2026-001

Welcome to the "Let's Climb Together" Newsletter!

First off, thanks you for subscribing to this newsletter!

Our sincere hope for the LintonMinute website, our books, videos, courses and summits is to bring knowledge and peace into your life.

Through John and Norma Linton's experiences, study, and application of the knowledge they have gained throughout their lives, we offer several ways we hope you can benefit from this work.

This newsletter's purpose:

To explore and share the experiences John and Norma lived in their families, work and travel. Through their daily climb, new ideas will spark more discussions, revelations, and experiences they will share with their Summit Circle members. This is where the most recent thoughts will be found.

Activities, summit, zoom meetings and travel.

In these newsletters we will explore our life and the ideas that help shape it. We will share how and where we find peace in our daily living. Through the scheduled zoom meetings and summit retreats, we will reveal what we learn to those who climb with us through life's journey.

Relaxed and informal.

The communication here will be simple and "less produced" than other avenues of communication like the videos and blog available on our website or in our LintonMinute YouTube videos. Here we will share the most current ideas we come across.

Monthly Prompt.

Looking for something to generate a discussion? Each newsletter will provide a prompt you can use to leave your ideas through the website using our blog or contact form. This newsletter's prompt:

You become what you think about."
